City of Endless Night Douglas Preston & Lincoln Child

When the reckless daughter of a wealthy tech billionaire, Grace Ozmain, first goes missing, the NYPD assumes she sped off on another wild adventure. Until the young woman's headless body is discovered in an abandoned warehouse in Queens. Lieutenant CDS Vincent D'Agosta quickly takes the lead. He knows his investigation will attract fierce scrutiny, so D'Agosta is delighted when FBI Special Agent A.X.L. Pendergast shows up at the crime scene assigned to the case. But neither Pendergast nor D'Agosta are prepared for what lies ahead. A diabolical presence is haunting the greater metropolitan area, and Grace was only the first of many victims.

Fools and Mortals Bernard Cornwell

In the heart of Elizabethan England, Richard Shakespeare dreams of a glittering career in one of the London playhouses, a world dominated by his older brother, William. But he is a penniless actor, making ends meet through a combination of a beautiful face, petty theft, and a silver tongue. As William's star rises, Richard is sorely tempted to abandon family loyalty. So when a priceless manuscript goes missing, suspicion falls upon Richard, forcing him onto a perilous path through a bawdy and frequently brutal London. Richard must call on all he has learned from the brightest stages and the darkest alleyways of the city. To avoid the gallows, he must play the part of a lifetime.

Promise Not to Tell Jayne Ann Krentz

Seattle gallery owner Virginia Troy has spent years battling demons from her childhood in a cult and the fire that burned through the compound killing her mother. Now one of her artists has taken her own life, but not before sending Virginia one last painting that makes her doubt everything. PI Cabot Sutter was also one of the children who survived that fire and the place it consumed, and he may be Virginia's only hope. Thrown into an inferno of desire and deception, Virginia and Cabot draw ever closer to the mystery of their shared memories—and the shocking fate of the one man who still wields the power to destroy everything they hold dear.

Darker: Fifty Shades Darker as Told by Christian E.L. James

Their scorching, sensual affair ended in heartbreak and recrimination, but Christian Grey cannot get Anastasia Steele out of his mind. Determined to win her back, he tries to suppress his darkest desires and his need for complete control, and to love Ana on her own terms. But the horrors of his childhood still haunt him, and Ana's scheming boss, Jack Hyde, clearly wants her for himself. Can Christian's confidant and therapist, Dr. Flynn, help him face down his demons? Or will the possessive

Elena, his seducer, and the deranged devotion of Leila, his former submissive, drag Christian down? And if Christian does win Ana back, can a man so dark and damaged hope to keep her?

The Girl on the Velvet Swing: Sex, Murder, and Madness at the Dawn of the Twentieth Century Simon Baats

The first comprehensive account of the murder and trial that shocked the world. In 1901, Evelyn Nesbit, a 16-year-old pin-up girl and penniless actress, dined with Stanford White, the legendary architect. Evelyn drank champagne and was dazzled by a tour of White's decadent apartment. She lost consciousness and woke, nearly naked, in bed next to 47-year-old White. Four years later Evelyn would marry Harry Thaw, and confide in him the story of her encounter. In 1906, Thaw shot and killed White before hundreds of theater-goers at Madison Square Garden. The city and the nation-erupted. It was, for the time, the most sensational scandal in history.

Robicheaux James Lee Burke

Dave Robicheaux is a haunted man. Between his recurrent nightmares about Vietnam, his battle with alcoholism, and the sudden loss of his beloved wife, Molly, his thoughts drift from one irreconcilable memory to the next. During a murder investigation, Robicheaux discovers he may have committed the homicide he's investigating. As he works to clear his name and make sense of the murder, what emerges is not only a propulsive and thrilling adventure, but a harrowing study our nation's abiding conflict between a sense of past grandeur and a legacy of shame, its easy seduction by demagogues and wealth, and its predilection for violence and revenge.

Death at Nuremberg W.E.B. Griffin

When Jim Cronley hears he's just won the Legion of Merit, he figures there's another shoe to drop, and it's a big one: he's out as Chief. His new assignment: to protect the U.S. chief prosecutor in the Nuremberg trials from a rumored Soviet kidnapping, and to hunt down and dismantle the infamous Odessa, an organization dedicated to helping Nazi war criminals escape to South America. It doesn't take long for the first attempt on his life, or the second. The deeper he pushes, the more secrets tumble out: a scheme to swap Nazi gold for currency, a religious cult organized around Himmler himself, and a distractingly attractive reporter who seems to be asking an awful lot of questions.

The Girls in the Picture Melanie Benjamin

It is 1914, and twenty-five-year-old Frances Marion has left her second husband and her Northern California home for the lure of Los Angeles, where she is determined to be an artist. But the word on everyone's lips these days is "flickers"—the silent moving pictures. In this fledgling industry, Frances finds her true calling: writing screen plays. She makes the acquaintance of actress Mary Pickford, whose signature golden curls and lively spirit have earned her the title "America's Sweetheart." The two ambitious young women become fast friends. But their ambitions are challenged, both by the men around them and the limitations imposed on their gender. Both struggle with the price of their success, finding love, and finding happiness.

The Woman in the Window A.J. Finn

Anna Fox lives alone—a recluse in her New York City home, unable to venture outside. She spends her day drinking wine (maybe too much), watching old movies, recalling happier times . . . and spying on her neighbors. Then the Russells move into the house across the way: a father, mother, their teenaged son. The perfect family. But when Anna, gazing out her window one night, sees something she shouldn't, her world begins to crumble. What is real? What is imagined? Who is in danger? Who is in control? In this diabolically gripping thriller, nothing is what it seems.
