All We Ever Wanted Emily Griffin

Nina Browning is living the good life. Her husband's tech business is booming, and her son, Finch, is bound for Princeton. Tom Volpe is a single dad working multiple jobs. His daughter, Lyla, attends Nashville's most prestigious private high school on a scholarship. But amid the wealth and privilege, Lyla doesn't always fit in. Then one devastating photo changes everything. Finch snaps a picture of Lyla passed out at a party and sends it to a few friends. The photo spreads like wildfire and, before long, an already divided community is buzzing

Copies _____ with scandal and blame. Nina finds herself relating more to Tom's reaction than to her own husband's and she faces an important choice: sticking to her morality or loyalty to her family.

Double Blind Iris & Roy Johansen

Kendra Michaels is reluctant to accept the most recent FBI case to come her way, but her interest is piqued when she learns the details: The body was found just blocks away from Kendra's condo, the man was carrying an envelope with her name on it, and inside was an SD card containing a video of the wedding reception of a man who was murdered just a week prior. As the body count rises, Kendra joins forces with private investigator Jessie Mercado and agent Adam Lynch. Together they discover that each victim helped convict a serial killer years before. Someone is out for vengeance. But who? Is it possible that the wrong man was convicted, and the killer has returned?

A Gathering of Secrets Linda Castillo

When a historic barn burns down in the middle of the night, Chief of Police Kate Burkholder is called in to investigate. At first it looks like an accident, but when the body of eighteen-year-old Daniel Gingerich is found inside, Kate suspects murder. But who would want this well-liked Amish man dead? Kate delves into the investigation and discovers Daniel had a dark side. He was a sexual predator. His victims were mainly Amish women, too afraid to come forward. Now someone has stopped him, but who? The women he victimized? Their boyfriends? Their parents? As Kate wades through a sea of suspects, she's confronted by her own violent past.

The Pharaoh Key Douglas J Preston & Lincoln Child

Gideon Crew—brilliant scientist, master thief, intrepid adventurer—is shocked when his former employer, Eli Glinn, vanishes without a trace, and Glinn's high-tech lab Effective Engineering Solutions shuts down seemingly overnight. Crew is contacted by one of his former coworkers who has a lead on Glinn's final case—the long-awaited translation of a centuries-old stone tablet from an undiscovered civilization: The Phaistos Disc. What lies at the end of the trail will either save Gideon's life—or bring it to a sudden, shocking close. Crew once again faces incredible odds—but as Gideon has proven again and again, there's no such thing as too great a risk when you're living on borrowed time.

Stay Hidden Paul Doiron

A woman has been shot to death by a deer hunter on the remote Maquoit island off the coast of Maine. Ariel Evans, a controversial author, was supposedly writing a book about the island's notorious hermit when the incident took place. To Warden Investigator Mike Bowditch, the case seems open and shut. But as soon as he arrives he discovers a web of complications and inconsistencies. The hunter claims he didn't fire the fatal shot and the ballistic evidence is in his favor. No research, notes, or drafts turn up in Ariel's rented cottage. Then, with the arrival of the weekly ferry, comes the victim herself! Ariel is alive, well, and determined to solve her own murder, even if it makes her more of a target.

Liar, Liar Lisa Jackson

Twenty years ago Didi Storm worked the Vegas strip as a celebrity impersonator, too busy "making it big" to raise her children. Remmi was fifteen when she last saw Didi. That terrible night in the Mojave Desert when Remmi witnessed her giving one of her newborn twins to a strange man. After that Didi disappeared, as did the other infant. They were never found. To Detective Settler, Didi's death looks like a typical suicide, but Remmi knows the mangled body that fell from a San Francisco building isn't her missing mother. As Remmi and Detective Settler dig, they uncover a story of ambition and lies that someone will kill again to hide.
