The Border Don Winslow

What do you do when there are no borders? How do you make a stand when you no longer know what side you're on? For over forty years, Art Keller has been on the front lines of America's longest and most futile conflict: The War on Drugs. His obsession to defeat the world's most lethal kingpin, Adan Barrera, has cost him the people he loved and taken a piece of his soul. Barrera's final legacy is the heroin epidemic scourging America. Keller finds himself surrounded by men that want to kill him, politicians that want to destroy him, and an incoming administration that's in bed with drug traffickers. Art Keller is at war and the long fight has taught him more than he ever imagined. Now, he learns the final lesson: there are no borders.

Cemetery Road Greg Iles

When Marshall McEwan left Bienville, he vowed never to return. The trauma that drove him away ultimately spurred him to become one of the most successful journalists in Washington D.C. Despite his vow, news of his father's failing health and his mother's struggle to save the family newspaper urge him back home. When he arrives back in Bienville, he finds the town in an economic rebirth that he suspects may be built upon crimes reaching into the state capitol and possibly all the way to Washington. Marshall gets swept up in the scandal, soon finding himself investigating two homicides and their connection to a shadow organization called the Bienville Poker Club, alongside his high school sweetheart Jet. By the time Marshall grasps the long-buried truth, he would give anything to not face it.

Devil's Daughter Lisa Kleypas

Young widow Phoebe, Lady Clare, has never met West Ravenel, but she knows one thing for certain: he's a bully. In school, he made her late husband's life a misery. When attending a wedding she encounters a dashing stranger. When the two are introduced she discovers that this charming man is none other than her beloved's tormentor. West is a man with a tarnished past, but from the moment he meets Phoebe, he is consumed by desire. What West doesn't know is that Phoebe is no straitlaced aristocrat. She's the daughter of a strong-willed wallflower who eloped with the most devilishly wicked rake in England. Phoebe sets out to seduce the man who has awakened her fiery nature. Will her passion overcome the past?

The Island of Sea Women Lisa See

Mi-ja and Young-sook, two girls living on the Korean island of Jeju, are best friends who come from very different backgrounds. When they are of age, they begin working with their village's all-female diving collective, led by Young-sook's mother. The girls know they are beginning a life of responsibility and danger. Over decades of conflict, the residents of Jeju find themselves caught between warring empires. Mi-ja is the daughter of a Japanese collaborator, and she will forever be marked by this association. Young-sook was born into a long line of haenyeo and will inherit her mother's important position. Little do the two friends know that after surviving hundreds of dives and developing the closest of bonds, forces outside their control will push their friendship to the breaking point.

The Malta Exchange Steve Berry

The pope is dead. A conclave to select his replacement is about to begin. Cardinals are arriving at the Vatican, but one has fled Rome for Malta in search of a document that dates back to Constantine the Great. Former Justice Department operative, Cotton Malone, is on the trail of legendary letters between Winston Churchill and Benito Mussolini that disappeared in 1945, but someone else seems to be after the same letters, and he's plunged into a hunt that draws the attention of the legendary Knights of Malta. The Knights have existed for over nine hundred years, the only warrior-monks to survive into modern times. Now they are a global humanitarian organization, but within their ranks lurks trouble -- the Secreti -- an ancient sect intent on affecting the papal conclave.

Me for You Lolly Winston

The last thing Rudy expected was to wake up one morning, a widower at fifty-four. Now, ten months after the death of his beloved wife, he's still not sure how to move on. After being downsized from his finance position, Rudy turns to his love of music. Some people might be embarrassed to work as the piano player at Nordstrom, but Rudy finds joy in his work. It doesn't hurt that Bella, the men's watch clerk, finds time to join him at the bench every now and then. Just when Rudy and Bella's relationship begins to deepen, the police inform him that a coworker has confessed to his wife's murder--but Rudy's actions are suspicious enough to warrant a second look at him, too. When Bella's no-good husband suddenly reappears, life becomes more complicated than Rudy could have imagined.

The Next to Die Sophie Hannah

A psychopath the police have dubbed "Billy Dead Mates" is targeting pairs of best friends and killing them. Before they die, each victim is given a small white book. For months, detectives have failed to catch Billy or discover why the killer leaves them behind. The police are on edge; the public in a panic. Then a woman, scared by what she's seen on the news, comes forward. Stand-up comedian Kim Tribbeck has one of Billy's peculiar little books. A stranger gave it to her at a gig she did last year. Was the stranger Billy, and is he targeting her--or is it something more nefarious? Kim has no friends and trusts no one, so how--and why--could Billy Dead Mates want to target her?

The River Peter Heller

Wynn and Jack have been best friends since freshman orientation. Wynn is a gentle giant, a Vermont kid never happier than when his feet are in the water. Jack is more rugged, raising on a ranch in Colorado where sleeping under the stars came as naturally to him as breathing. When they decide to canoe the Maskwa River in northern Canada, they anticipate days of leisurely paddling, and nights of stargazing. But a wildfire making its way across the forest adds unexpected urgency to the journey. When they hear a man and woman arguing on the fog-shrouded riverbank and decide to warn them, their search for the pair turns up nothing. The next day a man appears on the river, paddling alone. Is this the man they heard? And, if he is, where is the woman?
